

How can you be an exhibitor in the Tennessee State Fair held at Wilson County Fairgrounds in Lebanon, TN next fall?

Answer: Simply win a blue and/or purple ribbon on your entries in West Tennessee State Fair this year. Then you may enter in the Tennessee State Fair next year. This only applies to entries in categories which are non-perishable.

More details on back side

Entries for Competition in TN State Fair August of Next Year

Who is Eligible? Only Blue Ribbon Winners in West TN State Fair

How do I enter my item(s)?

- When you pick up your item at the end of this fair, get a contact sheet from a fair official (Must be completed and signed by you and WTSP Official)
- At this time, you will be given details telling you When, Where, Who and Times to deliver your item for transport to the TN State Fair. You will also receive the same details for the return of your item.
- Exact dates will not be available until February before each TN State Fair.
- Below is a sample of what will happen if you trust a WTSP Officials to enter your item in the TN State Fair for you: All dates here are for example only:
 - Complete contact information sheet when you pick up your item that won a blue/purple ribbon at the current WTSP.
 - Return your item to WTSP Officials at time they request.
 - WTSP Officials will transport your item to Lebanon, TN on the dates they take such entries. This is typically about the 6th-7th of the month of August each year.
 - Your item will remain under 24-hour camera and personal surveillance. The building is locked and unlocked daily by only Fair personnel.
 - Judging will be about the 7th-8th and on display for the week of the fair which might be dates like 10-17. If they had pick-up of entries on the 18th, WTSP Officials would transport your item back to have it available for you the next day, say the 19th.

CONGRATULATIONS! Winning a blue ribbon takes a lot of time and talent. To consider entering your creations at the State level will be an honor for you and those you represent.

Your West Tennessee State Fair